

CORPORATE INFORMATION

We design the future with the power of technology, shaping a prosperous world of connected hearts.

Since it was founded with the mission for supporting NTT communication services with software, NTT COMWARE has supported the business growth of its customers by creating new markets and services and actively pursuing technological innovation as a group of software professionals.

In recent years, the digital shift has rapidly advanced across society, and the importance of ICT is increasing. Software has become an indispensable part of every aspect of our industry and our daily lives.

Based on the quality and reliability that has underpinned Japan's social infrastructure, we will continue to develop more sophisticated network platforms for the next generation, bring about structural reforms in social and industry, drive the business expansion of the DOCOMO Group, and promote DX across the NTT Group.

Additionally, by changing ourselves in innovative ways, we will continue to deliver new value to customers and the world.

With our software development capabilities and the broader power of technology, we at NTT COMWARE will envision a future that is beneficial to people and society, helping to shape a prosperous world of connected hearts.

The quality and reliability that has supported social infrastructure in Japan. Based on the strengths we have cultivated to date, always changing, and continuing to deliver new value to customers and the greater world as a group of professionals going beyond our own boundaries to drive innovation.

Corporate Message

Connect hearts, shape the future

DOCOMO Group's Enterprise Business Brand

NTT DOCOMO, NTT Communications and NTT COMWARE have integrated their enterprise businesses, and operate the brand "docomo business." Under this brand, we will take on the challenge of "Changing worlds with you" — together with all corporate customers and partners — by driving innovation in society and industry with the Mobile Cloud First strategy.

Business Domains

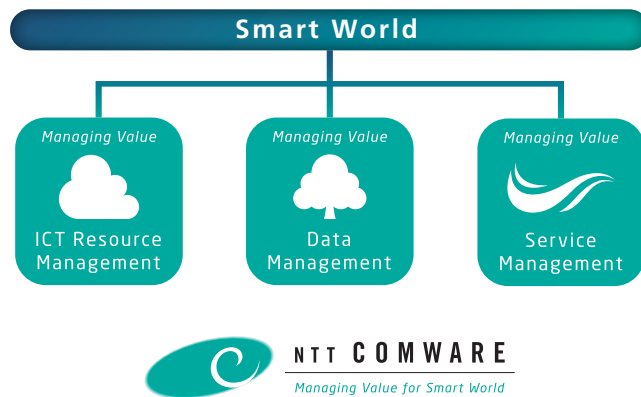

NTT COMWARE supports the communications infrastructure of NTT and has a track record of designing, developing, maintaining and operating the information management systems used by tens of millions of NTT communication service users.

With the power of technologies honed alongside those achievements, we are the first to provide customers across various industries with cutting-edge technologies and innovative services.

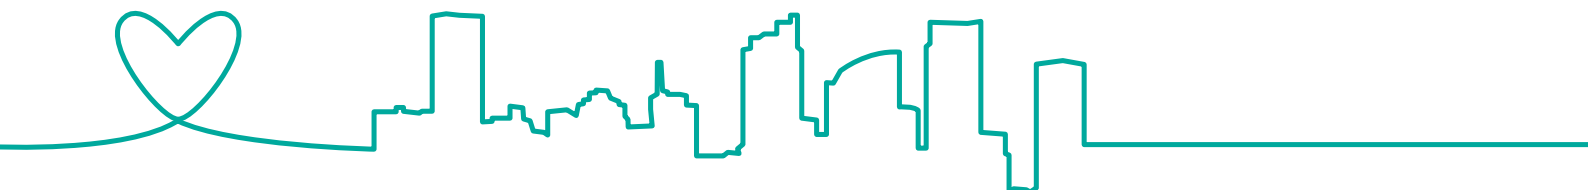

Value Proposition

We at NTT COMWARE continue to refine the three forms of Managing Value[®]- ICT Resource Management, Data Management and Service Management, while taking on challenges without letting up to realize a Smart World together with customers.

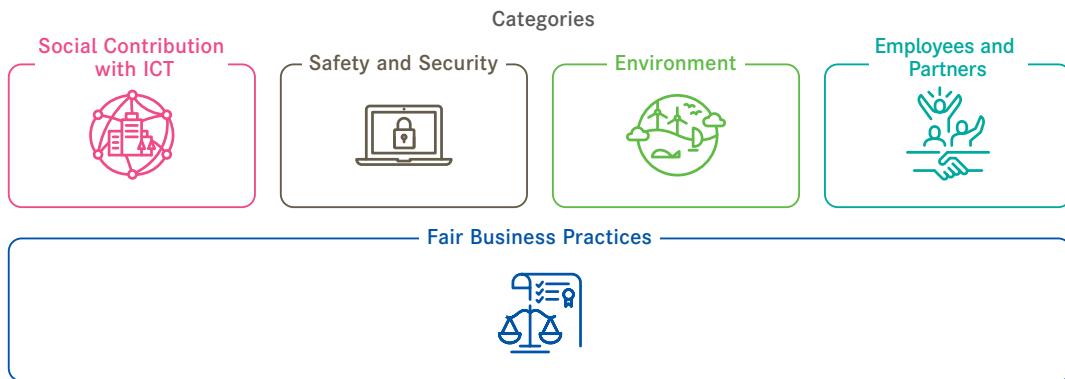

* "Managing Value" and "Managing Value for Smart World" are registered trademarks of NTT COMWARE CORPORATION.

NTT COMWARE Group Sustainability Policy

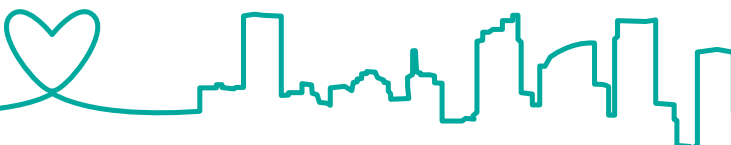

We will address social issues and strive to meet public expectations as a company that reflects its highest aspirations, in complete alignment with COMWARE Identity. While engaging in fair business practices, we will periodically review the content and relative priority of our material issues and their respective categories, set goals with foresight and creativity, and demonstrate transparency in our disclosures.

Materiality

We have defined ten material issues under the four categories of Social Contribution with ICT, Safety and Security, Environment, and Employees and Partners, as well as Fair Business Practices, the foundation for those categories.

Category	Material Issues
 Social Contribution with ICT	Recognition as solution business partners
 Safety and Security	Enhancing social infrastructure quality Robust security environment
